Buy

I've been on the edge of the artisan-towel trend for a while now, buying Turkish hand towels for my kitchen and powder room at Bloom (Denver) and Cedar & Hyde (Boulder). I'm finally ready to make the leap to bath towels this spring and ditch the bulky terrycloth towels hogging up space in my linen closet. Turkish towels (aka fouta or peshtemal) are thick, woven cotton sheets that are just as absorbent, plus they can tie around my body more easily than a regular towel. They can be used as beach towels, picnic blankets or a wrap; they're fun to store rolled up; and they dry quickly. I'm going to buy a couple extra for yoga class and travel. Kassatex Fouta Turkish Cotton Towel, $36.99; bedbathandbeyond.com

◀ Eat

Making my way into Tavernetta, surrounded by modern hotels, sparkling buildings and a rail-line canopy overhead, I felt palpable excitement at the new face of Denver. Union Station is abuzz, and the addition of Tavernetta is another check in the asset column for this chic, emerging area. The duo behind Boulder's Frasca—Bobby Stuckey and Lachlan Mackinnon-Patterson—have brought an upscale fine-dining experience to our city, with refined art, a bustling exhibition kitchen in the center of the multiroom space and a cozy fireplace lounge. Impeccable attention to detail, extraordinary high standards of service and truly wonderful food add up to an excellent night out. We loved the Tagliatelle with Maine lobster, Calabrian chile, preserved tomato and celery. Lunch, happy hour and dinner; tavernettadenver.com »

Co-owner of Chalet Colorado and in-house interior designer Regan Mattingly talks about what she loves in her life

10 THINGS I CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT

1 El Five is my favorite new hot spot for a night out. Located high above the city of Denver in LoHi, the views are amazing. They offer thoroughly Mediterranean tapas, which are fun to share with a big group of friends or perfect for date night. elfivedenver.com

2 Ivystone Showroom is my happy place for all things home décor. Located in southwest Denver, the showroom serves up one-stop shopping for home furnishings (Noir and Arteriors), accessories, bedding (Peacock Alley and Elisabeth York), lighting, rugs and tabletop. ivystone.com

3 My top paint colors are Benjamin Moore's Revere Pewter, Ballet White and Classic Gray. I am obsessed with neutrals, but these shades can also work well for my clients who love color. They make for a clean palette so that artwork and furnishings shine. benjaminmoore.com

4 Area rugs from Artisan Rug Gallery. Owners Jeff and Tiffany Deutsch travel the world to bring authentic and amazing rugs to Denver. artisanruggallery.com

5 Rose Tarlow Melrose House is my favorite fabric line. They have mastered the art of washed linen fabrics in gorgeous prints and solids that look absolutely beautiful in any interior. John Brooks, Denver Design District, johnbrooksinc.com

6 Lolo's Skin Care offers the best facial in Denver that won't hurt your wallet. Laura Dick is a certified esthetician who works out of her home in central Denver. (720) 373-5112

7 Most of the art in our home is by Colorado artists. We commissioned Duke Beardsley for an incredible painting that blends my husband's home-design sketches with famous riders. We also love the block prints from local artist Scott W. Parker, and have collected many works from Visions West Contemporary. dukebeardsleystudio.com, scottwparker.com, visionswestcontemporary.com

8 I prefer unscented candles for most occasions, but Lafco candles are the exception. Every scent is blended to perfection. Their soaps and hand lotions are just as dreamy. Lafco Candle, $65, Wish Boutique, Denver, or lafco.com

9 Our family cabin in Marble, Colorado, 30 minutes south of Carbondale, is where we unplug and enjoy all the incredible outdoor activities our state has to offer. We also love the natural sulfur hot springs at Avalanche Ranch (which has darling cabins for rent). avalancheranch.com

10 I have the Ferrell Mitman Bobbi sofa, and I often suggest it for my clients. The comfort factor is off the charts, and the fabric options are endless. This sofa will not disappoint. Town Studio, Denver Design District, townstudio.com ❖
