

Magpie / Mag-Pi

The Black-billed Magpie is a species in the corvid family that lives in western parts of North America. They have a shiny black plumage with white shoulder, belly, and primary feathers. Feathers on the wings and tail have an iridescent green sheen.

Pi Day is an annual celebration on March 14 (3.14) that honors the mathematical constant, π .

See colors and learn more

© Birdorable

See the colors and more cute birds at www.birdorable.com

Colouring Contest

Name: _____

Age: _____

Phone Number: _____

Return your colouring to the shop in Spruce Grove on Pi Day (3.14), Saturday, March 14, 2026, to receive a FREE slice of pie, available for the first 200 submissions!